QUEENS' BEING

Queens Being is a mentoring program established by Lowcountry Youth Services to empower young women, ages 11-18, by providing a positive and supportive community for young women of color.

Our mentoring program offers:

- Exceptional opportunities for enrichment and leadership development, allowing young women of color to become leaders who positively impact their communities.
- Small-group mentorship to empower young women of color to create and shape their own purpose and identity through unique experiences.
- Intentional activities and conversations that address risk behaviors related to sexual reproductive health and dating violence, helping young women to make informed decisions.

Through Queens Being, young women will find their voice, develop skills, boost self-confidence, expand creative expression, explore educational and career paths, and build strong bonds within a multigenerational and intercultural community.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

CLUB MEETINGS

Every 2nd Saturday during the Club Year (Sept. - May) QB has its monthly Club Meetings. These meetings are times when the mentors and mentees come together for the purpose of learning special skills based on the theme and curriculum of the month. There is normally a Parent Advisory Council meeting that happens simultaneously.

OUTINGS

We aren't always working! Sometimes, we get together for fun outings where our young men get to let loose and have a good time! These can include trips to the movies, parks, cookouts, or even trips.

COMMUNITY SERVICE PROJECTS

Community Service is a big part of being a member of the QB. Our members have a yearly service requirement of 18 hours. These hours can be earned during group Community Service Projects or on an individual basis.
